STRIKE MEDIATORS NEAR FINAL AGREEMENT

AMBASSADORS PROPOSE SETTLEMENT TERMS TO ITALIANS

Greeks Fire Italian Consulate

PARIS, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Council of Ambassadors sent a note to the Greek government embodying proposals for the settlement of the Greco-Italian controversy. The proposals somewhat modify the demands made upon Greece by Premier Mussolini. While they have not been officially disclosed, it is understood they contained the following terms:

First, the Greek fleet to pay honors to the Italian Naval squadron at Piræus which shall be accompanied by a British and a French warship; the Greek fleet saluting the Italian flags with 21 guns; the Italian ships to enter port without saluting.

Second, a memorial service to be held in the Catholic Church attended by all the members of the Greek government. During the service the ships in the harbor will fly their flags at half-mast.

Third, military honors to be paid when the bodies of the victims are placed on board ship.

Fourth, Greece to deposit the sum of 50,000,000 lire as a guarantee for the payment she may be called upon to make.

Fifth, an international commission presided over by a Japanese shall control the Greek investigation.

Approved By Allies

The text which was sent to the Greek government at Athens received the unanimous endorsement of the allied representatives but beyond saying "the council has reached an important, perhaps decisive, stage in the settlement of the conflict" no information with an official stamp was available.

Baron Azevedo, the Italian Ambassador, made no pretense of hiding his satisfaction as he left the meeting. He told the Italian correspondents that the decision likely would find favor in Rome. Questioned as to what welcome the allies would receive at Athens, the ambassador replied that it was not for him to say. But the general impression among the other members of the council was that Greece will obey the instructions which it can do without loss of prestige as would have been the case had the Italian ultimatum been accepted.

To French Ministers

It is understood that the council decided to appoint a committee to investigate the murders of the Italian members of the commission which will be headed by a Japanese. The question of indemnity it is understood would be held in abeyance until this committee is made to the ambassadors' council, providing that Greece maintains its offer to deposit 50,000,000 lire as security for paying the amount the council fixes.

Here is the Isezai-Cho-Dori (Amusement Street), in Tokio; totally destroyed by earthquake and flames. This street boasted more electric lights than New York's famed Gay White Way.

Split Is Threatened In Farmer Labor Rank

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—A faction of the Farmer-Labor Party of Minnesota and the State Non-Partisan League met in separate conferences here today to outline their political activity for next year. Known as an "official" conference, as it was called without the sanction of the party's state central committee, the farmer-labor meeting held before it a resolution of the Non-Partisan League against fusion of the two into one party.

The union of all farmer and labor elements into one compact political organization was the primary aim of the farmer-labor conference, which was called by William Mahoney, St. Paul labor leader, and Henry Teigen, secretary of the Non-Partisan League. Teigen also is secretary to Magnus Johnson, recently elected United States senator from Minnesota, but since the senator-elect urged the Non-Partisan League at its conference yesterday to retain its identity, Teigen is expected to leave the farmer-labor conference.

Meanwhile, the farmer-labor group, headed by E. A. Pike, chairman of the party's state central committee, determined to conference last night to call a state conference next spring with representatives apportioned on the basis of the vote cast for its gubernatorial candidate in the 1922 election.

Johnson Cannot Speak

DECATUR, ILL., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Senator Magnus Johnson, of Minneapolis, scheduled to speak at the state convention of the Farmer-Labor party here, has sent word he will be unable to attend and that he will be replaced by J. W. Minter, elected on the Farmer-Labor ticket, will fill his place as the principal speaker at the Sunday session. More than 250 delegates, some of them accompanied by their families and friends, arrived last night to take part in the convention.

"Guilty—Life!" Is Verdict Of Newman Jury

NEWMAN, GA., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Imprisonment for life was the punishment recommended by the jury for Grady Minter, late yesterday after he had been found guilty of murder in connection with the death of his brother-in-law, Milton Trouton, whose body was found floating in a creek several weeks ago. Minter confessed that he was a member of a party that kidnapped and killed Trouton.

His father, J. W. Minter, had been found guilty of murder in connection with the same case and was sentenced to be hanged on October 12. The trials of four men held in connection with Trouton's death, will not be held before next Wednesday.

Grady Minter held the crowded court room spellbound with the calm recital of the details leading to Trouton's death. He declared his father planned the attack and carried it out in spite of pleas that Trouton be let off with a "good whipping." He admitted however, that he helped hold Trouton while his father bound a rope about him preparatory to casting him alive into the creek with a stone weighted about his neck.

Trouton, according to evidence introduced at the two trials, was put to death because of alleged brutalities to his wife, who was the daughter of J. W. Minter.

Walton's War On Klan Is "Fight To Finish"

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Governor J. C. Walton's campaign to rid Oklahoma of mob violence and bring to justice persons responsible for lynchings, developed into an open contest between the executive and Ku Klux Klan with indication of a battle to the finish.

What the governor's next move will be, in the face of public defiance by N. W. Jewett, Grand Dragon of the Klan in Oklahoma, who condemned Walton's investigation of mob activities in Tulsa county as a fight on the Klan, is a matter of speculation.

One thing has been made clear, however, martial law threatens the entire state in the event of increased opposition of lawless into mob activities being conducted in a number of counties at Governor Walton's direction.

Rumors have been circulated in the Capital City for several days that Governor Walton is contemplating action to force the Klan to unmask in the state. Such reports have found no confirmation, however. The fight between Walton and the Klan was brought out into the open yesterday when Grand Dragon Jewett challenged the executive to attempt to break the power of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma. Jewett's attack followed the issuance of a statement from the governor's office declaring evidence gathered by the military court sitting in Tulsa placed responsibility for Tulsa county lynchings squarely at the door of the Klan. Jewett denied the charge and asserted that the Klan held no sympathy for the weakening of its membership found to be connected with lawless acts.

Japan And U. S. Enter New Era Of Friendship

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright 1923)

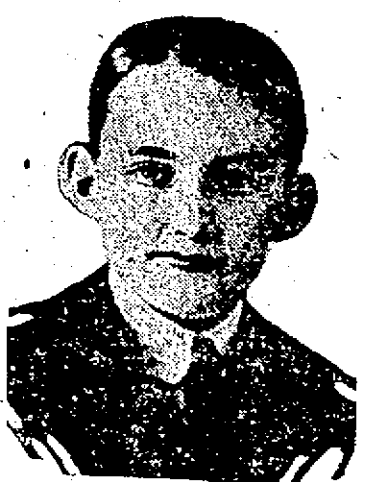

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Japan and the United States have entered upon a new era of friendship comparable only to the sincere faith and trust which the two nations had for each other in the days of Commodore Perry.

While the relief work attendant upon the earthquake is being undertaken without thought of the future, and only with the idea of aiding people in distress, there is no escaping already the discussion of the effects on the Japanese and American peoples of the generous contributions being made through the American Red Cross.

Talk of war with Japan only a few years ago was not dismissed as absurd or fantastic. It is true that with the conference on limitation of armament more people were willing to accept the Japanese position as that of a friendly nation, but it was difficult to analyze how far the alleged pretensions of the Japanese were swept aside.

Spoiled Boy Is Groomed To Rule Germany

General Ludendorff, von Hindenburg's right-hand man in the World War, does not hope to bring ex-Kaiser Wilhelm back to Germany, but he does believe the Monarchists will re-establish a monarchy in Germany, and he is grooming the eldest son of Princess Hermine, the ex-Kaiser's second wife, for the job. He is Prince Hans George Heinrich Ludwig Schoenrich-Hermann Ferdinand von Schoenrich-Carolath, 26 years old, overgrown and amiable. He lives, with a court, in his Castle Antitz, in Upper Silesia. He is inordinately fond of candy and eats enormous quantities, despite the orders of his doctors. Hermine is set on having her son made Kaiser and already forces his attendants to address him as "Your Majesty."

Klan Gathering At Springfield, O., For Conclave

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Delegates of the Ku Klux Klan from over Ohio and from surrounding states, were gathered here today for a district conclave. The meetings are being held all day at the county fair grounds.

Klan officials said several special trains and cars have been chartered from the steam and electric lines leading into the city to bring some of the delegations of Klansmen here. Many are coming in automobiles.

This afternoon at the fair grounds, national officers of the order will give addresses, following which a street parade is to be held at night. After the street parade there will be a Klan review and initiation of candidates. A fire works display will close the program.

Packer's Son Dies Battling Mad Bull

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—F. Edson White, Jr., 15, only son of the president of Armour and Company, died last night as a result of wounds received when his shot gun was accidentally discharged as he used it as a club to ward off an attack by a bull on his father's estate near Lake Forest, a suburb. With him was A. Watson, Armour, Jr., also 15, son of the vice president of Armour and Company, who shot the animal and drove it off when it attempted to gore the fatally wounded son. The boys, close companions, had been shooting pigeons on the White estate.

A coroner's jury found that the boy came to his death accidentally by the discharge of a shot gun while trying to ward off a bull by hitting it with the butt end of said gun.

Young White had jumped a fence surrounding a pasture where the animal, a prize bull, owned by his father, charged without warning, according to young Armour. As the bull rushed with lowered horns, White grasped his gun by the barrels and brought the stock down on the animal's head, the force of the blow dislodging the gun, the charge from one barrel entering his groin.

Across the fence, the Armour lad fired his shot gun at the bull, which wounded, limped away. Young Armour entered the field and lifted his wounded companion over the fence and summoned aid. White died while being taken to a hospital at Lake Forest.

Besides his parents, two sisters survive the dead boy.

Orders to kill the bull today were issued by the father.

Hopkins Heads Fine Arts Department At Ohio State University

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—James R. Hopkins, of Cincinnati and Paris, internationally known portrait painter, has been named to succeed Charles F. Kelley, as head of the department of Fine Arts at the Ohio State University, it became known today. Announcement was also made by University trustees that a studio to cost $10,000, is to be erected on the campus.

Even Dozen In Youngstown Mayoralty Race

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Midnight last night, the limit for filing candidacy for mayor, passed with 12 candidates formally in the ring for what promises to be one of the most interesting and best political campaigns with the Klan as a prominent factor. It will be the first election under the new city charter.

Rex George A. Gibson, who preferred charges against Mayor W. G. Reese and Chief of Police James Watkins, resulting in the removal of both, filed his candidacy just five minutes before midnight. He has frequently defended the Ku Klux Klan from his pulpit and has preached to Klan gatherings. Watkins and Reese also are candidates for mayor. Joe Weiss, prominent in political movements during the war, appeared with a petition, he refused to file when he learned he would be the thirteenth candidate.

The list of candidates follows: Mayor W. G. Reese; Former Police Chief James Watkins; Rex George A. Gibson; James A. Green, former state representative and former councilman; Fred Hardesten, former mayor; Charles Scheible, former service director; David C. Hamblin, former safety director; J. A. Williams, former state representative and chairman of charter commission; Thomas C. McDonough, attorney; Ed B. Davis, councilman; Jerry Sullivan, former councilman; George B. Snyder, former postmaster.

CLEVELAND MAN SLAIN IN TOLEDO

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—George W. Root, Toledo merchant, tonight shot and killed John Peebles, of Cleveland, when Root was attracted to the rear of his home by the sound of some one attempting to force an entrance. Root fired twice through a rear window, both shots hitting Peebles, one in the abdomen and the other in the left arm. Mr. and Mrs. Peebles were visiting at the home of relatives here. Mrs. Peebles and two small children survive.

Europe Awaits Jugo-Slav Answer

PARIS, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Developments in the relations between Serbia and Italy as they are influenced by the interpretation of the treaty of Rapallo and the status of Fiume are being watched here with increasing interest as September 15 approaches. This was the date set by Premier Mussolini at which the Serbian government must give a definite answer to the Italian demands or it will "resume liberty of action." Premier Mussolini's intentions in case the Jugo-Slavian government refuses to accept his terms have not been disclosed to the French government.

A. Daclitch, the Jugo-Slav premier, who is visiting the capitals of western Europe, is understood to have indicated that his government will not be lulled, but is prepared to refer the question to the arbitration of the Swiss Confederation as stipulated in the treaty.

Should arbitration be unacceptable to Italy, Premier Daclitch is understood to have said, Jugo-Slavians are prepared to protect her own interests if forced to do so.

The Jugo-Slavian army has been extensively re-organized and re-equipped since 1919. Rather extensive orders for arms and ammunition were filed in France several months ago and the orders are in the process of execution. These supplies will be paid for out of a credit of 300,000,000 francs which the French parliament approved before the summer recess.

Net To Be Drawn About Five In Macon Lash Cases

MACON, GA., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—At least five arrests will be made today, according to Roy W. Moore, city court solicitor, in connection with information alleged to connect Macon and Milledgeville members of the K. K. K. with two invasions of the state training school for boys last month for the alleged purpose of kidnapping two negro employees. The information, according to county authorities, was obtained during the investigation of a conference of Klansmen which is said to have been held in an abandoned house ten miles from here, last Monday. The nature of the information was not made public.

The trials of seven men held here in connection with recent lynchings are scheduled to be held here next week. Solicitor Moore declared last night that the state "had an inexhaustible supply of testimony" to be presented at the trials.

9 Convicts In Mutiny Fire Prison; Damage Slight

YORK, PA., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Nine convicts sent to the York county jail recently from the eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia, mutinied today and set fire to the prison. The fire was extinguished before serious damage was caused to the building, but a number of the prisoners were overcome by the smoke and flames and are in a serious condition.

Two prisoners said to have been the leaders, were placed in solitary confinement. Last night prisoners in the tier in which the fire was started, bent upon the bars of their cells with their eating utensils and made a noise all night long.

Today they tore their bed ticks to pieces and spread the straw along the tier. Into this straw lighted matches were tossed. The smoke spread through the jail and Turnkey George Horn with several state troopers rushed to the upper floor of the prison. Keeping the prisoners at bay with revolvers, they extinguished the fire.

The fifty convicts sent here several weeks ago have been unruly ever since their incarceration. They do not like the accommodations in the local prison and want to be sent elsewhere.

The York Commissioners do not want them here and have asked that they be removed.

"Pay, Or We'll Tear Up Your Tracks" Officials Tell Street Railway Co.

PHILADELPHIA, O., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—City officials announced today that unless the local street car company agrees to pay its portion of repairing Robbins Avenue by tonight, workers will start tearing up the company's tracks Sunday night.

Miners And Owners Hope For Settlement

HARRISBURG, PA., Sept. 6.—(By The A. P.)—Complete agreement upon the main points at issue between anthracite operators and miners upon the basis of Governor Pinchot's peace proposals were reached yesterday. Joint negotiations to make the agreement effective in a new wage contract and to clear up outstanding differences of lesser importance between the two sides were called for tonight.

All participants in the negotiations believe that a settlement will be effective and that the anthracite mines, now shut-down by union orders will be re-opened within ten days. Governor Pinchot, discussing the still unsettled points, declared there is "no point of dispute remaining between the two sides which is in any way likely to justify a continuation of the strike."

Any final agreement, whether reached tonight or later by the union representatives and the operators' policy committee, will be subject to approval by a convention of union delegates from the three United Mine Workers districts of the anthracite region. The assembling of such a convention would require at least a week, but John L. Lewis, President of the miners, and other miners' union leaders were certain a contract would be negotiated and that their recommendations would be accepted by the tri-district convention.

Miners Abandon Check Off.

Governor Pinchot's announcement that the miners union representative had agreed to take a "no" vote wage increase and abandon their demand for "check-off" collection of union dues came at the end of a brief session in which he met again members of the operators' policy committee and the union officials. The operators left the Capitol without having the decision known but Mr. Lewis and the Governor remained in the office together to left what had taken place.

"It is with the keenest satisfaction that I tell you I am authorized to announce that both miners and operators have now agreed upon the four points of the basis of settlement tendered them, as those points were interpreted in the supplementary statements issued yesterday," the Governor told the assembled newspapermen.

"In making this announcement I do wish to express my opinion to the spirit of fairness and forbearance on the part of both miners and operators with which my efforts to reach a settlement have been met."

Lewis Makes Statement.

Mr. Lewis followed him in a brief address: "In requesting to the four basic points of Governor Pinchot's proposals, the representatives of the mine workers have been fully conscious of the public interest. The mine workers proposed to fight to the finish with the anthracite operators, but had every reason to believe the bringing of such a contest would have brought fulfillment of their major demands.

"We have, however, the natural desire that goes with good citizenship to obviate the public embarrassment and (Continued On Page Three)

Desposed Chief Asks Retrial

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—James Watkins, recently deposed by Governor Donahoe as chief of police, of Youngstown, following charges that he failed to enforce the laws, has requested the governor for a re-hearing Monday evening to determine whether the request will be granted. "The request for the re-hearing was made several days ago but was not announced until today by the governor's office."

Suits Echo Of Collision

GREENUP, Ky., September 8 (Special Dispatch to The Times).— In Circuit Court here Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Fossan and daughter Ruby, of Danolton, Ky., filed three damage suits for $5,000 each against E. W. Potter, of Russell, Ky. They are an echo of a collision, which took place at Kenova a year ago in which he and his wife and daughter were injured. [The plaintiffs allege that the automobile accident was due to the negligence of Potter. Attorneys B. F. Wilson and A. W. Mann, of Ashland, are the plaintiffs.]

Recover Stolen Machine

Word was received here Saturday that the Buick machine owned by Bud Dewey, colored, of 1023 Eleventh street, which was stolen on August 27th here has been recovered in Cincinnati. A man who gave the name of James R. Mitchell was arrested. It is likely that Mitchell will be brought to this city.

Affiliate With State Council

At a meeting of the Directors of the Portsmouth Retail Merchants' Association Friday, it was approved and ordered that they would affiliate themselves herewith with the Ohio State Council of the Retail Merchants. The organization of the local body is now completed as they are now a part of a strong statewide organization. There were plans made at the meeting whereby the local members will assist the Red Cross in its drive for Japanese relief.

Overland Machines Cheaper

The Overland machines have taken a drop in price, F. E. Bower, local dealer announced Saturday. The new prices (delivered in Portsmouth) are as follows: Overland touring and roadster $1,560; 01 coupe $825; 01 sedan $870; 02 Red Bird $765 and 01 chassis $445.

AFTER STORMY TWO DAYS VISIT TO CITY, OAK HILL MAN IS SENT HOME

Milton Hughes, Oak Hill young man, went back to his home last night probably a wiser man as a result of his experience in a big city yesterday.

He came to Portsmouth to see the sights Thursday, but soon fell in with some strangers in the West End and as the result of drinking lemon extract, soon fell by the wayside and the police found him wandering in the streets. After sobering up Hughes was released on his promise to go back home, but before going decided he wanted a suit of clothes

Edward Pence, an old Portsmouth boy is here to visit relatives and friends, it being his first back home in many years.

Shields Released

William Shields, who was sent to jail several days ago for nonpayment of a fine assessed of him under a larceny charge in connection with the theft of harness from a Scoto Trail man, was released from custody Saturday when he arranged to pay. The harness was recovered.

About Half Of Red Cross Quota Raised; Need For All To Aid

Great generosity has been shown throughout the county in the drive for the relief of Japan. The workers have gotten a good start and it is the hope that the goal of $5,000 will be reached Monday. The contributions have already reached about half the sum. It is the desire of the local chapter to send the quota for this county to the National Red Cross as soon as possible. Great interest has been shown in the plea "In The Name Of Humanity, Help Japan." Judge Elbert Gary, general chairman of the committee, raising the U. S. quota, calls attention to the fact that the quotas named are the absolute minimums, and that much more money will be needed. This means every one must give to the fund.

About 50 workers solicited the factories yesterday and met with unusual success. Today the downtown offices are being canvassed; stands have been established in different downtown places and workers will gather contributions on the street. Buses bearing the slogan "In The Name Of Humanity, Help Japan," have been placed throughout the county and it is hoped that they will be noticed by the people.

A. E. Singleton, chairman of the relief work, has planned a very intensive campaign and with the aid of his committee it is hoped that it will go "Over The Top."

The committee are as follows:

Wholesale and financial interests—Edward T. Reed.
Manufacturers—H. F. Bertram and Roger A. Seelye.
Retailers—George A. Goodman.
Churches and Railroads—A. E. Singleton.
Attorneys—A. H. Bannion.
Physicians—Dr. A. R. Moore.
Automobile interests—R. S. Pritchard.
General Soliciting—Mrs. Harry Revere, Mrs. Ruth Davis, Mrs. J. H. Goodman and Mrs. John Lowry.

Rickey And Hornsby Stage Scrap

Jack Ryder in Saturday's Enquirer said it was learned today that there is much dissension in the Cardinal ranks, and that Rogers Hornsby poked Manager Rickey in the eye and blackened that important member severely during the recent trip of the Cards. The matter had been kept a strict secret until today, when Hornsby told a number of his close friends here of the incident which happened after a game at the Polo Grounds, in which the main slugger was criticized by his manager for certain play he had made in the game.

When Manager Rickey and Hornsby reached the club house after the game they renewed their argument and it grew so hot that Rickey took a pass at Hornsby who was dressing and broke his watch chain. Hornsby came back with a stunning blow to the face and the Cardinal leader carried a very black eye for several days. It was noticed today that Hornsby did not go near the Cardinal bench during either game. He played first in both games, as Jim Bottomley is laid up with a bad cold, and after each inning he retired to a position near the right field pavilion, not far from the Red bench.

Three small tables arranged for an afternoon of cards, and at the close of the games handsome trophies were awarded for high and low scores. Later the hostess' mother, Mrs. L. Doty, served a dainty appointed afternoon lunch to the Misses Persis Bannion, Katherine Bannion, Dorothy Manning, Joanne Pursell, Louise Bush, Helen Hopkins, Helen Teley, Nancy Grimes, Ruth Lloyd, Mary Louise Selby, Martha Kennedy and Gladys Doty.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Bennett, en route to Huntington, W. Va., from Benton, Arkansas, have been spending the past few days in Portsmouth, as the guests of Miss Virginia Dege, of 532 Second street. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett are making the trip in their Buick touring car.

Train Wrecking Rumor Explained

Officials of the N. and W. today denied rumors that an attempt was Thursday night, to wreck passenger train No. 35 due here at 5:50 from Cincinnati.

When the engine ran into three pigs, which were crossing the track and were made ideal candidates for the butcher's block. It had been rumored that a railroad tie had been thrown across the track.

Pays Damages Of Collision; Dismissed

When a Jewett touring car, driven by Jesse Howard enroute from Ashland, Ky., to Cincinnati, skidded on the wet paving as he was coming into Scotoville yesterday, and crashed into a Ford touring car driven by Russell Cole, of this city, Howard speeded up in an effort to get away from the scene of the mishap. Officer Rambo, Scotoville policeman, hastily notified New Boston police and the fleeing motorist was halted as he was passing through New Boston, though only after an officer had fired upon his automobile. No charge was placed against Howard and after he paid the damage of $15 to up in an effort to get away from the scene of the mishap. Officer Ram-

Industrial Stars Play McDermott

The Industrial Stars, one of the fast aggregations traveling out of Portsmouth, will show at McDermott Sunday afternoon, when they will stack up against the strong village crew for diamond honors.

The contest promises to be a torrid struggle for supremacy between two speedy teams who have shown considerable class this season and by reason of such both claim the amateur championship of the county. This meeting was arranged to decide the issue and it will be a case of "dog eat dog" when these two crack outfits get into action. One of the big thrills throughs was present at McDermott is expected to turn out to observe the pastime and cheer the home boys on to victory.

Brannon will serve 'em up for John Simon's gang and he will be opposed on the hill by Frederick, hurling one of the invaders. Play will be called at 2:30.

The following players are requested to report at the Findlay Street Ball Park at 1 a. m. Sunday ready for the trip to McDermott: Frederick, Schuler, Hubbard, Gramer, H. Scott, Baker, Roush, R. Keyser, C. Keyser and Ray Keyser.

Why, Good Evening, Roseland!

It is no longer the Auditorium or the Winter Garden, as under the new management it

TRINITY M. E. CHURCH
 304 Gallia and Offere Streets.
 Sunday school 9:00 a. m. Golden Rule days, and after the close of a busy week, don't we welcome each of them? Did you say your neighbors were going with you to Sunday School tomorrow? Remember Trinity begins promptly at 9:00 a. m. and you wouldn't want them to miss one feature of the interesting program. Of course, you know the Men's Class have their own attractive opening exercises in their classroom. A committee of men is always on hand to welcome the stranger. There was too bad your little girl was unable to be in the many Department last Sunday. The little tots have such a good time down there, and Trinity is justly proud of the work they do under the supervision of Miss Vesta Stockham and her staff of able teachers. Special music by the large Sunday School orchestra is promised for Sunday. A cordial invitation is extended to the stranger in the city.

At the morning worship at 10:30, Dr. J. C. Jackson will preach. Dr. Jackson is always a welcome speaker at Trinity, as also at other churches. His years of faithful service in the Kingdom work have endeared him to many congregations. Mrs. O. J. Deitzler will be the soloist for this service. At the evening service, 7:30, Mrs. J. Albert McKelvie, who is closing a very successful period of young people's work, will present the following interesting program:

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to "Miss Dolly Wise," care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—What do you think of a married man, of about 45, who has a wife and children, and has the nerve to stand and try to flirt with me? He is close to 40, and I am 17. I have to pull the blinds down to keep him from seeing me. I think he is a poor fish myself, and he is badly mistaken if he thinks I am the kind who will flirt with the likes of him.

He surely must be a poor fish if he hasn't anything else to do but stand by the window all day and try to flirt with you. Why don't you move your desk around and turn your back on him, or else give him a glony stare that will shame him away from the window?

Dear Dolly—What do you know about clay packs for the face? Do you think it would pay a girl to monkey with anything like that? I understand they are a lot of trouble, and a darned messy. I am troubled with large pores and I was wondering if the packs had a tendency to make the skin rough. My skin is very tender and brims when I put anything like that on it. SLEEPING BEAUTY.

If you are using the mud packs I would advise you to discontinue their use for awhile until you get your skin in shape again. You might use hot water on your face at night to open the pores. Then use a good closing cream, and finally close them with a dash of cold water.

Dear Dolly Wise—For the first time I have written to you. I am 11 years old, blue eyes, brown hair, light complexion and want my hair bobbed. My mother told me that I might have my hair bobbed, my father said no. What do you think about him, Dolly?

If your mother told you to bob it, you should have done so right away, and then asked your dad how he liked it. If he means it when he says you can't have it bobbed, you will just have to wait. If you think he won't spank you, have it bobbed anyway, as that is the way all girls should wear their hair.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you please tell me how to make grape juice as we have so many grapes, and I hate to see them go to waste.

HILLTOP READER.

Plum kover grapes, nearly cover with water, and cook thoroughly. Strain as for jelly. To each quart of juice, add one third-cup of sugar, boil five minutes. Pick over grapes, nearly cover with water, and cook thoroughly. Strain as for jelly. To each quart of juice, add one third-cup of sugar, boil five minutes.

Dear Dolly—My hair has split ends, and I was wondering if putting it up in electric curlers has anything to do with that. Do you think electric curlers make the hair break off? I sometimes use the electric curling iron, too.

PANSY.

If you put the curlers on carefully I don't think they will cause the hair to break off. If you think they do you might change to kid curlers. Have your hair singed and clip off a little every month or so, and brush well every night, and it will come around all right.

SOCIAL NEWS

Prominent among the pre-nuptial courtesies being extended to Miss Katherine Hall and her fiancé, Mr. Varner Altman, who will be married in All Saints' church next Wednesday evening, was the charming bridge party given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Alan N. Jordan, in their handsome home on Court street. Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Jordan were two of their attractive sisters, Miss Lottie Anderson, who recently returned from California, and Miss Mary Anderson of Cleveland. During the course of the evening, Miss Lottie Anderson, one of the most talented sopranos whom Portsmouth music lovers have had the privilege of knowing, gave in her charming manner, several beautiful solos.

Fall flowers were used in profusion throughout the rooms in the Jordan home, making a pretty setting for the colorful gowns of the ladies. Guests for thirteen tables passed a delightful evening over fascinating games, handsome trophies for high and low score being awarded to Mrs. John L. Neudorfer and Mrs. C. O. Dodson of Hammond, Indiana.

The gentlemen's prizes were won by Mr. Varner Altman and Mr. Kerwin Watkins.

Later the small tables were laid with beautiful appointments for a two course luncheon.

Among the guests from out of the city were, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Briggs, of Cleveland, guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Briggs of Waller street; Mrs. C. O. Dodson, cousin of Miss Hall, who is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Leigh Watkins of Hammond, and Miss Jean Wallace of East Orange, N. J., who has been chosen as maid-of-honor to the bride.

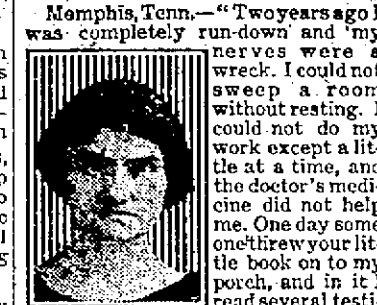

The annual fall outing of the Friday Sewing Club was held yesterday at "Green Gables," the beautiful country home of Mrs. J. Frost Davis, at Rushtown. A delectable luncheon at the noon hour preceded a delightful afternoon of cards and other diversions. Miss Lottie Anderson, a former member of the club, who is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Alan Jordan, was a welcome guest of the afternoon. These members were present: Mrs. Watson Goddard, Mrs. Hayden Bush, Mrs. Charles Duggar, Mrs. Chester Lloyd, Mrs. Raymond Whitely, Mrs. O. M. Sumway, Mrs. C. E. Butler, Mrs. Edna Martin, Miss Edna Martin, Miss Pixley and Lena Hauk.

Miss Millie Prediger, the dressmaker and modiste, and one of her assistants, Miss Clara Callahan, will leave Sunday for Chicago to attend the annual convention of the Fashion Art League of America, a national association of dressmakers, of which Miss Prediger is a member. At this convention models of prominence in the fall and winter vogue of fashion will be presented and studied. Miss Prediger and Miss Callahan will spend the week at the convention studying the style tendencies, preparatory to opening the fall season of dressmaking on their return.

Mrs. S. Rosenthal of Fifth street, who underwent an operation in Jewish Hospital, Cincinnati last week, is getting along very nicely.

MRS. HINCKLEY NERVOUS WRECK

Tells How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Memphis, Tenn.—"Two years ago I was completely run-down and my nerves were a wreck. I could not sweep a room without resting. I could not do my work except a little at a time, and the doctor's medicine did not help me. One day some one threw your little book on to my porch, and in it I read several testimonials of women who had been like myself. I went right out and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken the whole of the bottle I knew it was helping me. I took six bottles, and then in about three months I took two more. Now I am in perfect health. I do all of my own work and could do more. I can truly say that I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound gave me my health back. Mrs. O. J. Hinckley, 316 Union Ave., Memphis, Tenn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. This book contains valuable information.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Gardner and daughter, Margaret Ida, of Bald avenue, moved to Springfield, Ohio, today to attend the American Legion Convention. While there they will be the guests of Mrs. Gardner's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Gableman.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Artis and son, Robert, of Seventh street, moved to Springfield, Ohio, today, where Mr. Artis will attend the American Legion convention which is being held there.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morrison and son Ralph of Peabodies are visiting local relatives and friends.

The Senior W. G.'s of the First Baptist church will meet on Monday evening at the home of Miss Maxine Kelsner, 645 Second street. All donations for the Hopedale Home should be brought to this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Baker will leave Thursday on a trip to Washington, D. C., Baltimore and Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ditty of Eighth street are leaving today on a two days' visit with relatives and friends in Pittsburgh and Mousese, Pa.

Miss Margaret Young, secretary for Mr. Coles Peabody at Belmont, who has been recovering from an operation, and has been in Portsmouth and at her home in Portsmouth nearly all summer, has recovered her health sufficiently to resume her work at Belmont.—Ironton Register.

Group Five of the Trinity Ladies Aid Society will meet on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Donaldson, 1021 Second street. Mrs. George H. Staton will be chairman of the meeting and she is anxious that all members be present, as the election of officers for the coming year will take place at this time.

The Young Women's Home Mission Circle of Trinity church will meet on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the Misses Verena and Lucy Graham, 1805 Timothy avenue. The assisting hostesses will be Miss Jennie Held, Miss Grace McAllister and Mrs. Neil Styles. Miss Cora Swabby will be the devotional leader. This is the first fall meeting of the society and is an unusually important one, as plans will be voted upon at this time to ride the Circle to groups. This is also done yearly, and all members are urged to bring their dues to this meeting. Prospective members should also be invited to this meeting, so they may get a better idea of the work to be carried on during the coming year.

The George D. Scudder Guild of the First Presbyterian church will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lynn Padan, 1819 Hutchins street. This is the first fall meeting of the society and all members are urged to attend.

Mrs. Charles Graham and children, Billie and Nellie and grandson, Charles have returned from Nitro, W. Va., where they spent the summer with Mr. Graham, who is situated there.

After a two weeks' vacation spent at various places along Lake Erie, the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Lidenmeyer and daughters, Misses Irma and Selma of Sixth and Washington Streets, have returned home.

A dinner party at the Willson House, Jasper last evening was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Rea Selby and guests, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Hutchinson of Altoona, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Schimmel and son, Harrie of Columbus and Mrs. Mark W. Selby and daughter, Miss Christine.

After a visit with Mrs. Thomas Bay of this city, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Vanghe have left for their home at Salem, Ohio. Enroute they will visit with relatives at Springfield and Columbus.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

"Quick! Quick!" he shouted. "You're needed, Mr. Gallop."

HATTERBOX MAGPIE came flying toward Mister Gallop's cave, squawking like a horn with a hat on. "Quick! Quick!" he shouted. "You're needed, Mister Gallop. Davy Deer's got his horns caught and can't get loose. Mister Hunter Man is coming up the mountain on his horse and he's got a big gun. Oh, do hurry!"

"Chatterbox, you're a nice fellow after all," said the cowboy fairly. "You're a good friend to all the mountain folk. It's a fact, even if you are a rowdy. Yes, I'll help Davy right away. Come on, Nancy and Nick, we'll start for the place at once. You'd better fly over to the trail where Mister Hunter Man is riding. Chatterbox, do what you can to hold him back."

The Twins came at once and got on their little fat ponies as fast as they could climb.

Then the three of them dashed away toward the place where Davy Deer was.

But after all, they couldn't get near enough to Davy to do him any good, for deer can go places that no pony can set his feet.

"We'll have to get off our ponies and crawl over on our hands and knees," declared the fatman. "It's too bad you were riding too fast today, Twins, or you could have wished yourselves over the steep places with your magic shoes. The patient, Davy!" he called. "We'll be there in a minute."

Mister Hunter Man came riding up the mountain path, up and up and up, looking everywhere for Davy Deer. He was very suspicious that Chatterbox Magpie had told him and was looking at him at that very minute from a tree on the high cliff over his head.

Suddenly the air was filled with dust and stones all around him. "Oh, here's something in my eye!" he cried. "I'll have to get off my horse. I can't see a thing!"

And it took him fifteen minutes to find it and get it out. Just the fifteen minutes that Mister Gallop and Nancy and Nick needed to reach Davy and to whistle away the branches that had caught his long horns!

When Mister Hunter Man reached the place, there wasn't a soul there. Just a lot of broken branches and some footprints all around.

"I wonder what all this means!" he remarked in a puzzled voice. "I wonder if there was a deer here lately?"

Chatterbox Magpie was holding his sides he was laughing, so hard. He knew.

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES—Under the Ground

"Non you can walk back to shore again," said the little water girl. "You can only stay in this Nigget Pool long enough to get clean." So Jack turned around and waded out of the water. As soon as he reached the shore the Lady of the Lake clapped her hands and some nymphs appeared.

"Sit down on that rock," shouted the water girl, and Jack did as he was told. Then the little nymphs started fanning him with huge leaves. In a few moments Jack felt of his clothing and discovered they were all dry. Then the water girl and nymphs disappeared.

Jack was alone with Flip. He was wondering what he should do next when Mother Earth appeared. "Now that you are spic and span," said she, "I will let you visit Silver Cavern." So she led the way to another opening which seemed to be covered with bars of bright silver. (Continued.)

EDISON MARSHALL
ILLUSTRATED BY E. W. SATTERTHWAITE
© LITTLE, BROWN & COMPANY, 1923

BEGIN HERE TO DAY
Godfrey Cornet sends his son, Ned, on a voyage to Northern Canada and Alaska to exchange two thousand silk and velvet gowns with the Indians for fine furs. The profits are to be split 75-25, the lion's share to Ned.
Eight persons go on the voyage. With Ned is his fiancée, Lenore Hardenworth, and her mother, Mrs. Hardenworth. Captain Kuntzen is assisted by McNab and Forest. As the weather grows colder much discomfort is felt by the Hardenworth women who have come unsuitably clothed for a sea voyage.
Bess has plenty of warm clothing to protect her from the cold. Mrs. Hardenworth objects to eating at the same table with the seamstress. Bess avoids the three aristocrats.
Now Go On With the Story
The bottles were greeted with shouts of delight. Ned went immediately to the sideboard and procured half a dozen glasses.
"All hands partake, to-night," he explained. "It's going to be a real party."
He mixed whiskies and sodas for Lenore and Mrs. Hardenworth; then started to make the rounds of the crew with a bottle and glasses. He did not, however, waste time offering any to Bess. "This liquor had already craved an innate fear of it, wholly apart from sentimentality and non-sense."
But Ned found plenty of customers for his whisky. McNab, at the wheel, wished him happy days over two fingers of straight liquor in the glass, and Kuntzen, his pale eyes gleaming, poured himself a staggering portion. "Go ahead," Ned encouraged him when the seaman apologized for his greediness. "The sky's the limit to-night." And Forest in the engine room, and Julius in the kitchen, absorbed a man's drink with right good will.
Ned was able to make the rounds again before the call for dinner; and the attitude of his guests was changed in but one instance. McNab seemed to be measuring his liquor with exceeding care. He was a man who knew his limits, and he apparently did not intend to overstep them. He took a small drink, but Kuntzen, his superior, consumed as big a portion as before.

It was an elated, spirited trio that sat down at the little table in the saloon. Not one of them could ever remember a happier mood. Julius served the dinner with a flourish; and they had only laughter when a sudden lurch of the craft slid the sugar bowl off the table to the floor.
"Hello, the ship's drunk, too," Ned commented gallily.
They were really in a good mood to see anything but glad to see the suddenly rocking table. The truth was that the wind had suddenly sprung into brisk gale, rolling heavy seas and bobbing the little craft about like a cork.
Ned made his way through the pale that saw the deck procured Lenore's and Mrs. Hardenworth's heaviest coats. He noticed as he passed that Bess had sought refuge in the engine room. Ned waved to her, then returned to his guests.
The room was already noticeably colder, but so much for the drop in temperature—a thermometer would have still registered above freezing—as from the chilling, penetrating quality of the wind that forced an entrance as if through the ship's seams.
There was no opportunity to make comment before Kuntzen lurched into the room. "It's tough, isn't it?" he commented. "Mr. Cornet, I want another shot of dat stuff before I take de wheel."
Ned, not influenced by his cups, extended the bottle with a roar of laughter. "You know what's good for you," he commented. "Where's McNab? Let him have one, too."
"He's still at de wheel, but I don't think he'd care for one. He's funny old wolf at times. Mrs. Hardenworth, how do you like dis water?"
"I don't like it very well." She held fast to the slipping table. "Of course, you'd tell us if there was any danger."
"Not a bit of danger. Just a squall. Dis isn't rough—you ought to see what it would be outside dis chain of islands. But it's mighty chilly." He poured the stiff drink down his great throat, then buttoned his coat tight.
Ned, for a moment secretly appalled by the storm, felt his old recklessness returning.
"There's only three or four shots left in this bottle," he said, holding up the second of the two quartis he had taken from the case. "You'd better have one more with us before you go. A man burns up lots of whisky without hurting him any on a night like this. Then take the bottle in with you to keep you warm at the wheel."
Kuntzen needed no second urging. He was of a race that yields easily to drink, and he wanted to conquer the last, least little whisper of his fear of the night and the storm. He drank once more, pocketed the bottle, then made his way to the pilot house.
"You're not going to try to ride her through?" McNab asked, as he yielded the wheel.
"Of course. You're not afraid of a

"There's only one way." The girl's lips were close to his ear, else he couldn't have heard in the roar of the storm and the clapping of the little flurry like dis."

McNab stared into his glittering eyes, and for a moment his lips were tightly compressed. "This isn't a little flurry," he answered at last coldly. "It's a young gale, and God knows what it will be by morning. You know and I know we shouldn't attempt things here that we can do with safety in waters we're familiar with. Right now we can run into the sea of Ivan Island and find a harbor. There's a good one just south of the point."

"We're not going to run into Ivan Island. I want to feel dry land. We're going to head on toward Tzar Island."

"You run a little more of that bottle down your neck and you'll be heading us into hell. Listen, Cap'n." McNab paused, deeply troubled. "You let me take the wheel, and you go in and celebrate with the party. You won't do any of that sort of thing."

"And you get back to your engine and mind your own business." Little angry points of light shot into Kuntzen's eyes.

McNab turned to the door, where for a moment he stood listening to the howling of the wind. Then he climbed down into the engine room. "There was nothing in his face, as he entered, to reveal the paths of his thought. He was wholly casual, wholly commonplace, seemingly not in the least alarmed. He stepped to Bess' side, half smiling. "I wonder if you can help me?" he asked.

The girl stood up, a straight, athletic figure at his side. "I'll try, of course."

"It depends—have you any influence with young Cornet?"

Bess shook her head. "I'm afraid I can't help you," she told him, very gravely. "I have not influence with him at all. What is it you want me to do?"

"I wanted you to tell him to put up the booze. Particularly to keep the captain from getting any more."

McNab looked at her as before now, but he looked at strong men with whom he had stood the watch. "What are you getting at?"

His voice was gruff, but it didn't offend her. She felt that they were on common ground.

"I know as well as I do. I promised his father before I left that I'd look after Ned. He was in earnest—and Ned needs looking after now if he ever did. Mr. Cornet won't blame me, either. Show me how to get down in the hold."

McNab suddenly chuckled and patted her on the back with rough familiarity, yet with fervent companionship. "You've got the stuff," he said. "But you can't lift them alone. I'm with you till the last dog is hung."

On the exposed deck the storm met the two as they carried up the heavy liquor cases and drop them into the sea. The noise of the storm concealed the little sound they made. Finally only two bottles remained, the last of a broken case.

"You take one of those and ditch it in your room," McNab advised. "I'll keep the other. There might come a time when we'll find real need for 'em—as a stimulant for some one who is freezing."

"Take care of both of them," Bess urged. "I'm not sure I could keep mine, if any one asked for it."

"I don't know about that. I believe I'd bet you. And now it's done—forget about it."
Soon they crept back along the deck. McNab to his work, Bess to her stateroom.
They had all but encountered Ned on his way to the hold. His bottles were empty, and the help for strong drink had not left him yet. In the darkness under the deck he groped blindly for his cases.
They seemed to evade him. Breathing hard, he sought a match, scratching it against the wall. Then he stared in dumb and incredulous astonishment.
His stock of liquor was gone. Not even the cases were left. Thinking that perhaps some shift in the position of the stores had concealed them, he made a moment's frantic search through the hold. Then, raging like a child and in imminent danger of slipping on the perilous deck, he rushed to the pilot house.
"Captain, do you know what became of my liquor?" he demanded. "I can't find them in the hold."
"Of course I don't know anything about 'em—but I'll help you investigate in the morning," Kuntzen answered. "I'm very sorry, Mr. Cornet—that it should happen aboard my ship."
"To hell with your ship! I'm going to investigate to-night!"
Ned started out, but he halted in the doorway, arrested by a sudden suspicion. Presently he whirled and made his way to Bess' stateroom. He knocked sharply on the door. Bess opened it wide. Then for a long second he stared into her deep blue, sparkling eyes.

Mr. Frick Favors Bond Issue For New Jail.
Adam Frick, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday added his support to the project of building a new jail with the Court House when it is built, in the following letter to the County Commissioners:
"The members of the Chamber of Commerce have noted with a great deal of satisfaction that you have served notice by publication that there is to be submitted at the ensuing election the question of issuing the bonds necessary for the erection of a New Jail along with building a New Court House, and we just waited you to know our sentiment and therefore send along this word of approval.
"Remembering that the grounds now occupied by the old Court House and much of that surrounding the present structures, will be improved by the erection of a most splendid building therefore, anything that would remain such as the present Jail would merely tend to destroy the beauty and effect of the modern type of building.
"Then, this building presently occupied as the Jail has been the worry of every Grand Jury for the past twenty-five years. The law requiring an inspection and report to be made to the Court on matters in and surrounding the jail makes necessary subscribing to the fact that there is a condition not in accord with present day needs, therefore, there is need of a change.
"Likewise, one having suffered the misfortune such as to undergo arrest should not be forced to a condition such as is found about the present compartment. To make one submit to an environment much below that of the present accepted standard, even though he or she be charged with an offense against the law, is to exercise a force contrary to American ideals, in fact it might rightfully be termed persecution in advance of determining guilt or innocence."

Things Seen In Portsmouth
Well known young man walked into a confectionary shop with his lady love, order her a "coke," then walk over to the mirror, take out his pocket comb, doll himself up a bit, then sit down opposite his girl to be admired. He sure did think he was the whale's wrist watch.
A young man wearing boxing gloves driving an automobile.
An old familiar whiff as a "hooch bound" pushed his way into a crowded street-car.
A sheik with drooping moustaches and tasseled hair parked on Fifth and Chillicothe street. Oh, bah, pin a rose on me!
Young lady admiring a pair of shoes in a window and exclaiming "Oh boy! ain't them swell!"
Three boys and an aide-de-camp going for a joy ride in a dir.

Departmental Work Is Now Being Conducted In Elementary Grades
Departmental work is now being carried on in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades in the elementary schools of Portsmouth.
"This means that different teachers teach different studies to pupils in these grades, instead of one teacher handling all branches." Superintendent Appel said Friday. "If a teacher is good in teaching arithmetic she will handle this branch alone, one in geography the same way and the plan is a big success."

THE RIGHT WAY TO USE NATURAL GAS

The burners on your stove or range should not be more than one and one-fourth inches from the utensil. Otherwise, much of the heat is lost. They can easily be raised to the proper height if you find they are too low. The tip of the flame should just touch the bottom of the cooking vessel.
Avoid side drafts which deflect the flame. Do not permit it to "lick" up the sides of the vessel. Use grid tops or skeleton lids instead of solid tops. Have the cooking vessel ready before lighting the gas. When boiling has commenced, the same temperature can be maintained with a lower flame. Turn off the gas before the vessel is removed.

LOCAL MERCHANTS TO OBSERVE DOLLAR DAY WED. SEPT. 12

It was officially announced Saturday by James R. Distel, president of the Merchants' Retail Association, that community Dollar Day would be observed by the merchants of Portsmouth on next Wednesday,

September 12. Recalling the great success of dollar day last spring, when the merchants vied with each other in giving wonderful values, there is every reason to believe that a high water mark will be established in the local mercantile world next Wednesday. When the Merchants' Retail Association decided to observe Dollar Day, many of them began planning for the event, and there is no question but even greater bargains will be placed before the great throngs of buyers next Wednesday. It will be recalled that last spring a delegation of some twenty-five merchants visited Huntington when that metropolis was observing semi-annual dollar day. The merchants were wonderfully impressed with what they saw and came back home determined, if possible, to outdo the merchants of the up-river city. And, Wednesday will prove an even greater success. The Retail Merchants' Association have decreed officially they will hold two community dollar days each year, one in the fall, the other late in the spring. This gives them an opportunity to clean up their stocks and at the same time afford the people an opportunity to make great savings on their purchases.

The Beautiful Roll Roofing--

Talk about wear and good looks in roofings! You never saw so much for the money as Barrett Everlast Mineral-Surfaced Roll Roofing gives. We recommend it without hesitation. The heavy waterproof felt base, reinforced with a mineral surface in red, green or blue-black, will wear for years without repairs or upkeep of any kind.

Come in and see it—let us quote prices.

CITY AUDITOR CHANDLER MAKES REPLY TO STATEMENTS OF MAYOR GABLEMAN

Answering Mayor Gableman's recent statement directed at the manner in which he is conducting the affairs of the City Auditor's office, Auditor Chandler yesterday sent the following letter to Mayor Gableman and members of the City Council:

September 7, 1923.

Mr. President and Members of Council:

At Council meeting held September 5, 1923, the Mayor addressed to you quite a lengthy dissertation on various matters. The first part, which largely consists of self-congratulatory remarks concerning the moral condition of the community, I allow to pass for what it is worth. However, in this communication certain statements were made regarding the manner in which special street and sewer funds are kept. These statements are untrue as are explained in detail below.

The Mayor also makes an untrue statement that when he came into office on January 1, 1920, there were deficiencies everywhere and the Water Works was operating on borrowed money.

There was a balance in each of the operating funds of the City as follows:

General fund	$2,344.80
Public Health fund	2,339.04
Public Works fund	2,339.04
Water Works fund	11,850.57
Hospital fund	2,674.40
Cemetery fund	8,051.51
plus in bonds	17,500.00
Library fund	1,130.63

He also stated that the Water Works was operating on borrowed money. This is untrue, as the Water Works never borrowed money at any time for operating purposes except during the present administration and Examiner Mohl in his report dated May 1, 1921, set this transaction up as illegal.

The first statement under this head is correct

New Figures On Canada's Wheat Crop Have Depressing Influence On Chicago Market

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Unexpected new bearish figures regarding the Canadian wheat yield this season had a depressing influence on Chicago prices today during the early dealings. The new forecast was more than 100,000,000 bushels in excess of the amount predicted yesterday by the president of the National Association of Millers, 68 1/2 per cent to 68 3/4 per cent.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press).—Five convicts escaped from the Ohio penitentiary here shortly after noon today after scaling the walls which surround the structure. All prison guards and details of police immediately began combing the vicinity of the penitentiary in search of the men.

The convicts were being taken from the main dining room to their cells when they broke away from their company, scurried up the wall, over-

CAMERAGRAMS

PRESIDENT CALVIN COOLIDGE isn't the only distinguished member of the Coolidge family. Here is Dane Coolidge, distant cousin of the chief executive, who is an author, member of the Authors' League and field naturalist for Stanford University. He lives in Berkeley, Calif.

THOSE WHO KNOW W. Leonard Thompson of Chicago say his recent appointment as assistant chief of the newly organized Division of Domestic Commerce is a good thing for the economic growth of the country. He is thoroughly familiar with internal conditions in the United States, they say.

SUNDAY FINDS THE COOLIDGES on their way to church in the capital. The president and his wife always attract attention when arriving at the First Congregational Church or when leaving it to return to the White House. Even when he goes to worship a president must be protected by Secret Service.

MORE THAN 1,240,000 copies of this photo of Phyllis Haver, taken when she was a Mack Sennett bathing girl, have been sent to all parts of the world. It is said to be the most widely distributed picture in the world. Phyllis now is a star in Fox films.

THE HOT BISCUIT BOY in quest of knowledge is this little Chinese lad of 10 years—Chus Ching, who smiles like a dental ad when working aboard the Admiral Liner President Madison. His parents consented to let him go aboard the big vessel when officers promised to educate him.

RAINIER NATIONAL PARK, Washington, is the Mecca for hundreds of visitors these days. This particular scene shows Paradise Glacier. Should these tourists slip they would plunge 500 feet into the black depths below. Concomitantly trips are made daily with adequate guide service.

THE VERY LATEST in coats is shown here by Mrs. Beth Weber, Chicago modiste, who arrived recently from a shopping trip in Europe. It's very spiffy, to say the least.

DOROTHY BOUGH, member of the champion girls' relay team—the Meadowbrooks of Philadelphia—always finishes a race smiling. The Meadowbrooks hold the world's record for 440 yards, and have taken many other prizes in competition with the best feminine runners in the country.

EFFIGY OF JOHN HARLEY COHEN, newspaper man accompanying the late president through Alaska, saw this figure in what was left of a miners' bar room at Fairbanks. They bought it and now it stands in the main room of the National Press Club, Washington. It is made from a gnarled tree limb.

A RELIC OF OTHER DAYS is the imposing fortress in the town of Mytilene, Greece, left from the times of Venetian domination. It is in this very fortress that many refugees hid during the evacuation by the Greek army last autumn of Asia Minor. This fortress and others like it were filled by refugees.

LITTLE BEVERLY MOFFETT, daughter of the director of the naval air service, also aspires to fly. The eagle on which she is perched forms one of the supports of the McClellan Statue on Connecticut avenue, Washington, D. C. To little Beverly the eagle symbolizes flight. That's why she is smiling.
